Mayor Matsui’s Comments on exceeding 5,000

I am very pleased that Mayors for Peace membership has exceeded its target of 5,000.

I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude for this achievement made possible through the devoted efforts of the executive and member cities of Mayors for Peace, our staff, 2020 Vision Campaigners and individual volunteers, like-minded nations, allied NGOs and many other civil society groups.

I believe the passing of this milestone augurs an era of rapid progress around the world toward the abolition of nuclear weapons by 2020.

To further promote the realization of a nuclear weapons convention, now the central element in our 2020 Vision, Mayors for Peace will strengthen campaign activities while continuing to increase membership. Our Executive Conference will soon be meeting to deliberate and plan concrete measures. I thank you and ask for your continued support.

September 16, 2011

MATSUI Kazumi
Mayor of Hiroshima
President of Mayors for Peace
World Human Rights Cities Forum [Gwangju, South Korea, May 15 to 18, 2011]

Mr. Steve Leeper, Chairman of the Hiroshima Peace Culture Foundation, attended the 2011 World Human Rights Cities Forum in Gwangju, South Korea. He spoke on behalf of the mayor of Hiroshima about the peace policies of Hiroshima and Mayors for Peace.

The 1.02 million signature petition forms collected since February 2007 for the Mayors for Peace “Cities Are Not Targets! (CANT)” initiative are now on permanent display at UN Headquarters in New York. The petition forms were submitted to the UN by the Mayors for Peace delegation in May 2010 on the occasion of the NPT Review Conference.

The exhibit, consisting of two three-meter-high towers of petition forms, was inaugurated by UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon, High Representative for Disarmament Affairs, Sergio Duarte, and US Messenger of Peace, actor Michael Douglas, at a formal ceremony on March 24. The CANT monument is the first-ever permanent civil society exhibit not donated by a government to be installed at UN Headquarters. Three hibakusha from Japan, including a Korean, attended the ceremony.

Mayors for Peace expects that diplomats and UN visitors from around the world will see this permanent exhibition at the UN Headquarters, feel the magnitude of this global grassroots wish for a peaceful world without nuclear weapons, and enhance momentum for the abolition of nuclear weapons.

On June 20, 2011, a resolution sponsored by US members of Mayors for Peace entitled “CALLING ON THE PRESIDENT TO WORK WITH LEADERS OF OTHER NUCLEAR WEAPON STATES FOR ELIMINATION OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS BY 2020 AND CALLING ON CONGRESS TO CUT FUNDING FOR NUCLEAR WEAPONS AND TO REDIRECT THOSE FUNDS TO MEET THE NEEDS OF CITIES” was unanimously adopted at the 79th US Conference of Mayors annual meeting held June 17 to 21 in Baltimore, US. The resolution expressed strong support for the activities of Mayors for Peace.

Prior to adoption, it was endorsed on June 19 by UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon, the first UN chief to address the USCM.
Member City Activities

Member cities around the world are making efforts for peace. Here are some examples reported to the Secretariat since March 2011.

■ Nishinomiya, Japan: Peace Projects in 2010

Nishinomiya City implemented various activities including the A-bomb Exhibition (July 21 to 26), Parents and Children’s Bus Tour to Hiroshima (August 5 to 6), Lantern Floating for Peace (August 7), outreach activities prior to the war-end anniversary on August 15 (August 10), promoting the anniversary for the Nuclear Free Peace City Declaration (eight days around December 10) and a Peace Assembly to commemorate membership in Mayors for Peace (December 19).

■ Reykjavik, Iceland: Mini Hiroshima Nagasaki A-Bomb Exhibition (February 21 to March 8)

A mini Hiroshima Nagasaki A-Bomb Exhibition held at Reykjavik City Hall, co-organized by the Embassy of Japan in Iceland and the City of Reykjavik, was the first A-bomb exhibition in Iceland. Exhibition items included about 20 photo posters and books, which were provided by the National Council of Japan Nuclear-Free Local Authorities when Ambassador Natsume met with Mayor Taue of Nagasaki in 2010.

■ Paranaguá, Brazil: A-Bomb Exhibition and Survivor’s Testimony (July 4)

During commemorations of the 363rd anniversary of the city of Paranaguá (PR), Brazil, the mayor of Paranaguá hosted a special event to celebrate membership in Mayors for Peace and formally open a public A-bomb exhibition. Testimony from representatives of the Hibakusha Association of Brazil and a screening of the documentary “A Mother’s Prayer” at City Hall moved the audience to tears and raised public awareness of the inhumanity of nuclear weapons.

■ Oxford, UK: Mayors for Peace /NFLA English Forum Joint Seminar (July 8)

Hosted by the Lord Mayor of Oxford, the UK Mayors for Peace Working Group held a business meeting, followed by a joint seminar with the NFLA English Forum in Oxford, UK. At the business meeting agreement was achieved on a joint letter to recruit new members and a UK tour for the Hiroshima-Nagasaki A-bomb exhibition.

■ La Victoria, Peru: A Thousand Cranes for Peace (August 6)

Over one hundred people marched through the streets of La Victoria, a new member city of Mayors for Peace in Peru, to commemorate the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. This event, called “A Thousand Cranes for Peace”, was organized by the Women Network of Local Authorities of Lima and Callao (MUALIC) together with Mayors for Peace. It was held in La Victoria City Hall. The mayors of the Lima municipalities of San Borja, Miraflores, San Martin de Porres, Surquillo and metropolitan Lima, folded paper cranes and called for peace and nuclear disarmament during the march.

■ Manchester, UK: Manchester Peace Festival and more

Manchester City held the Manchester Peace Festival from September 17 to 25, launched the Manchester City Centre Peace and Social Justice Trail Website in May, and helped to arrange for the Nagasaki-donated exhibition to go on tour across the UK.

■ Abashiri, Japan: Commemorates the 20th Anniversary of its Peace City Declaration

To commemorate the 20th anniversary of its Peace City Declaration, Abashiri City provided opportunities to think about and wish for peace, including a Panel Exhibition on the A-bombings and the Battle of Okinawa (August 9 to 14). Paper cranes were collected, exhibited in City Hall and dedicated to the Children’s Peace Monument in Hiroshima in September.

Others include: Nine cities (Aalst, Antwerp, Bastogne, Brussels, Ghent, Leuven, Mechelen, Mons and Ypres) in Belgium and peace organizations commemorating the atomic bombing through various events (August 6); Fujisawa, Japan dispatching parent-child reporter teams to Hiroshima in August; Zushi, Japan holding the 1st Zushi Peace Day (August 25 to 27); Mazzarino, Italy hosting Unaccompanied Children Asylum Seekers as Clear Example of Peaceful Coexistence; and Rhodes, Greece holding the 4th International Anti Nuclear Festival of Rhodes (September 12 to 21).
