25 years saving lives and building futures

Mines Advisory Group work for peace clearing landmines, supporting development and delivering education in conflict-affected landscapes.

They supported the DiscoverPeace seminars with presentations and discussion at their HQ in Manchester - a station on the Manchester DiscoverPeace trail.

Here, visitors can see landmine clearance equipment; the 1997 Nobel Peace Prize won by the International Campaign to Ban Landmines (ICBL) which included MAG; and a letter from Diana, the late Princess of Wales, about the campaign.

European cities creating urban heritage trails on peace-building & social justice

DISCOVERPEACE MANCHESTER:
FREE WORKSHOPS & CITY WALKS

DISCOVERPEACE

Interested in Manchester's urban heritage of peace and social change? Discover Peace invites you to free city walks and introductory workshops - informal sessions to:

- Find out about Discover Peace Europe - our partners in Berlin, Budapest, The Hague, Paris, Turin & Vienna.
- Use the Discover Peace Manchester trail: web, app, booklet.
- Look at human rights, diverse cultures and democracy through the city's landmarks.
- Share skills and ideas to support, follow or adapt the trail for your own group, class or organisation.
- Get to know the city's peacemakers - meet the Mines Advisory Group (MAG), Manchester City Council and others.

Workshops: Manchester Town Hall and Mines Advisory Group UK headquarters - Fridays, June 12 or 26, 10am - 4pm (free lunch/refreshments plus copy of trail booklet).
City walks: Saturdays, June 13 or 27, 10am - 2pm (flexible).

We want to share the Discover Peace trail as widely as possible and welcome participants from any background, community or sector. Find out more or just book your free places - contact Catherine Roberts - cs.catherine.roberts@gmail.com
