Mayors for Peace outlines three objectives in the Vision for Peaceful Transformation to a Sustainable World (PX Vision): Peacebuilding by Cities for Disarmament and Common Security. One of them is to promote the culture of peace, which the PX Vision explains as follows:

This April Issue of the Mayors for Peace News Flash features some of Mayors for Peace initiatives promoting the culture of peace. We hope these examples will inspire your city to implement initiatives promoting the culture of peace.

The City of Hiroshima, since 2021, has designated November as the “Month for the Culture of Peace.” This Month sees a variety of events under the theme of the culture of peace held intensively in cooperation with private sector companies and groups of citizens. These events include, for example, lectures on the culture of peace and stage performances and art exhibitions by youths.

Pass down Atomic Bomb Experiences through Testimonies

We encourage member cities to provide their citizens with opportunities to hear hibakusha's testimony while using online video conference platforms or on video to have as many people as possible share in the hibakusha's sincere desire for the abolition of nuclear weapons and to encourage them to take action for peace.

If your city wishes to set up an opportunity to hear a testimony online, please contact the Secretariat.

Hold Mayors for Peace Atomic Bomb Poster Exhibitions

Mayors for Peace provides member cities with “Mayors for Peace Atomic Bomb Posters,” which visually present the realities of the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, consequences of nuclear weapons use, and Mayors for Peace initiatives, featuring photos, drawings created by hibakusha, and other images. Posters are available in the following nine languages: English, German, French, Russian, Dutch, Spanish, Catalan, Portuguese, and Japanese. To have more citizens deepen their understanding of the realities of the atomic bombings and share in the wish for the abolition of nuclear weapons, we encourage member cities to organize poster exhibitions at facilities to which many residents have access, such as city halls, community centers, and public libraries.

Nurture seeds and seedlings from atomic bomb survivor trees

We distribute to member cities seeds from hibaku trees—atomic bomb survivor trees which have survived the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. We encourage you to raise second-generation hibaku trees, which serve as symbols of peace, to help raise citizens' peace consciousness.

Should you wish to receive seeds from hibaku trees, please contact the Secretariat.

We organize the competition this year, too. Please see the next page (p.4) for details.

Request for payment of the 2023 Mayors for Peace Membership Fee

In order to facilitate future activities and strengthen the sense of solidarity amongst member cities, Mayors for Peace introduced an annual Membership Fee in 2015.

This year again, we ask each member city to pay a fee of 2,000 Japanese yen (about 16 USD/15 Euro as of March 27, 2023) per city. If your city has not paid their Membership Fee in previous years, we ask your city to pay the total amount owed for each unpaid year since 2015. The collected Membership Fees will be allocated toward new and existing projects listed on the Mayors for Peace Action Plan.

A request for payment of the 2023 membership fee was sent to each city by email on April 4. We deeply appreciate your kind cooperation.

UK/Ireland Chapter Launches Petition Drive at Stockport Meeting

Report by Mr. Richard Outram, UK and Ireland Mayors for Peace Chapter Secretary

The UK/Ireland Mayors for Peace Chapter launched its petition drive at a recent meeting of the Stockport for Peace Group.

The Mayor of Stockport, Councillor David Wilson, was the guest of honour at the group's Annual General Meeting held on Saturday 25 March, and the keynote speaker was UK/Ireland Chapter Secretary Richard Outram, who spoke of the history and work of Mayors for Peace and his recent visit to Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Mr Outram used the occasion to promote awareness of the Mayors for Peace social media accounts and the international petition calling for a nuclear weapon free world that is sponsored by Mayors for Peace.

A lively discussion ensued about the ways in which Stockport could become more actively involved with the work of Mayors for Peace, including engaging young people in peace education and making school links with Japan. Stockport for Peace can also now begin collecting signatures on the petition on its street stalls.

Stockport has also recently applied to receive seeds from atomic bomb survivor trees (hibaku trees).

The event concluded with participants signing the petition, led by the Mayor of Stockport who signed in a personal capacity.

AFCDRP–Mayors for Peace France raises awareness of nuclear disarmament in cooperation with Maison du Japon

Report by Ms. Loréna Schlicht, AFCDRP–Mayors for Peace France

In February and March 2023, AFCDRP–Mayors for Peace France organized two events to raise awareness of nuclear disarmament among Japanese and international students in Paris in cooperation with Maison du Japon, Cité Internationale Universitaire de Paris.

First, in a one-day seminar at Maison du Japon on February 25, Loréna Schlicht and Miho Shima Cibot on behalf of AFCDRP–Mayors for Peace France gave a presentation on the Mayors for Peace network, the history of nuclear weapons and issues posed by them, and the history of peace movements, which was followed by a discussion with the students. Second, on March 22, AFCDRP–Mayors for Peace and Maison du Japon screened Prophecy, the documentary on the atomic bombings directed by Susumu Hani, and held a photo exhibition on the consequences of nuclear weapons for one week in the lounge of Maison du Japon.

These events, made possible by the invitation from Director of Maison du Japon, Professor Maki Nishiumi of Chuo University, Japan, are part of the efforts of AFCDRP–Mayors for Peace France to develop new projects in partnership with associations of Japanese residents in France aiming at raising awareness of the realities of nuclear weapons and the importance of peace.

Évora holds the 1st Youth Meeting of the Portuguese Member Cities of Mayors for Peace

Report by Ms. Paula Helena Santos, the Municipality of Évora, Portugal

The Municipality of Évora, Lead City of the Mayors for Peace Portuguese Chapter, in collaboration with Évora_27, European Capital of Culture Team, organised a Youth Meeting of the Portuguese Member Cities of Mayors for Peace on March 28. With the goal of promoting the culture of peace among young people with a focus on values of tolerance, sustainability and cooperation, we invited 30 youths to Évora from the following 12 Member Cities which agreed to send youth delegates: Cascais, Setúbal, Mourão, Santa Maria da Feira, Guarda, Grândola, Almada, Lagos, Porto, Fafe, Serpa, Seixal and Évora.

After the meeting started with a welcoming address by Councilor Alexandre Varela, the workshop “Cobblestone Path” invited the youths to reflect on peace and activate their thoughts collectively through group exercises and brainstorming led by Facilitator and Director Vera Alvelos. At the end of the workshop, the peace thinkers wrote a collective Manifesto for Peace based on Eugénio de Andrade’s poem, Urgentemente (Urgently in English), stressing the urgent importance of peace and vagar—slow living philosophy and a way of living and being cultivated in Évora and the Alentejo Province.

The workshop “Cobblestone Path” is a first step in involving youths in a major thematic conference, “What about Peace?,” to be held in 2025 on the occasion of the 80th anniversary of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombings as part of the conference programme of Évora 2027, European Capital of Culture.

Peace-related news from Hiroshima

(provided by the Chugoku Shimbun Hiroshima Peace Media Center)

On its website, the Chugoku Shimbun has updated its portal page for the summit meeting of the G7 (attended by the Group of Seven industrialized nations), scheduled to be held in Hiroshima City in May. The update incorporates new digital content titled “What happened under the mushroom cloud,” in a look back at the horror of the atomic bombing.

Access the new content at: <https://www.chugoku-np.co.jp/stp/UndertheAtomicCloud/>

The content was created on the basis of “Striving to fill voids in Hiroshima,” a series produced by the newspaper that captures the reality of devastation caused by the A-bombing that has yet to be revealed. Scrolling down the site enables viewers to experience photographs, explanations, and other information in chronological order about Hiroshima soon after the A-bombing. The materials are linked to a map showing the locations where the photos were taken and allow viewers to trace the reality of the A-bombing and its aftermath to the end of 1945. An English version of the content will be available around the end of April.

People in Japan and overseas whose interest in the A-bombed city of Hiroshima has been heightened because of the Hiroshima Summit can learn from the content about the catastrophic consequences of the atomic bombing. It is also hoped that the information will catch the attention of government officials representing the G7 nations and be of use in their deliberations at the summit to bring the world one step closer to the abolition of nuclear weapons.

The portal site includes an expansion of summit-related news, with many articles also appearing in English. Information relevant to daily life, such as traffic regulations to be enacted during the summit, will be added to the site in the future.
